DETAILED ACTION

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species I - Figures 1-6

Species II - Figures 7-10

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, there are no generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

2. During a telephone conversation with Michael S. Leonard on 01 April 2005 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Species I, claims 1-4 and 6-13. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claim 5 is withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 12 is objected to because of the following informalities: Line 2, "a" (first occurrence) should be deleted. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hersker (US 4,809,399).

A spring clamp comprises a clamp mouth (Figs. 1-3). The clamping mouth has two clamping jaws (22,24) spring loaded towards one another by a spring (3) (Fig. 1) and are formed by first and second arms (1,2) that are connected to one another in an articulated manner at one end (by 4). The other ends form actuating sections that can be moved toward one another in order to open the clamping mouth (Figs. 1-3).

The one arm (2) of the first and second arms is substantially Y-shaped and the other arm (1) of the first and second arms is substantially L-shaped.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3, 4 and 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hersker in view of Veltz et al. (US 6,470,522 B2).

Hersker disclose a spring clamp having all the features mentioned above for the rejection of claims 1 and 2. Hersker fails to disclose that the spring clamp has a hook pivotally mounted to one of the actuation section. However, Veltz discloses a clamp (20) having a clamping mouth (32) with two clamping jaws (22) connected in an articulated manner and having two actuating sections (42,58). One of the actuating sections has a hook (46) pivotally mounted thereon (Figs. 1-6). The hook allows attachment of the clamp to bulky objects or to be stored in a pouch (C. 3, L. 39-41). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a hook pivotally connected to one of the actuating section in accordance with the teaching of Veltz in the clamp of Hersker. Doing so, allows attachment of the clamp to bulky object or to be stored in a pouch.

Hersker also teaches that:

- The hook, when pivoted in, is located in a substantially parallel position in relation to the actuating section (Figs. 1-6)
- The hook has a closure tongue (52).
- The closure tongue is urged by spring force into a closed position and is curved in a direction of an inside of the hook (C. 4, L. 45-48 and Figs. 1-6).

Allowable Subject Matter

Art Unit: 3677

8. Claims 7 and 10-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Harrison (US 1,792,837), Bell (US 3,654,755), Dragan (US 4,106,374), Hersker (US 4,809,399), Farber (US 4,907,477), Rittmann et al. (US 4,934,222), Cedargreen et al. (US 4,965,958), Eggert et al. (US D 383,294), Chen (US 5,876,026), Shui-Shang (US 6,185,795 B1) and Veltz et al. (US 6,470,522 B2) are cited to show state of the art with respect to clamps that have some of the features claimed by the current application.

examination of patent applications will effectively increase the patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as PTO's mailroom processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP § 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee that the applicant is paying by check should not be submitted by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP § 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 872-9306) on (Date) .

(Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP § 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response has been transmitted by facsimile will cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application, duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.
